V2verify™ Selected to be Part of Dreamit's 2019 Fall Cohort

Omaha, NE --October 21, 2019 -- V2verify, an industry-leading voice biometric company, was one of six companies selected from a pool of 500+ applicants to be part of Dreamit's 2019 Fall Cohort. The Dreamit Cohort is a powerful group of companies that are solving challenges in cyber and physical security.

Dreamit, a leading global accelerator, has accelerated more than 320 startups that collectively have gone on to raise more than $800 million and have a combined value of over $2 billion.

V2verify was chosen for Dreamit's SecureTech cohort because of the complex problem its voice biometric technology solves in the identity and access management space. Businesses struggle to secure and protect data without compromising the user's experience; V2verify brings a simple solution to a complex industry problem.

According to Bob Stasio, Managing Director of Dreamit SecureTech, "Dreamit Ventures accepts startups into our SecureTech Program that are building transformative solutions in cyber, physical, and fraud-based security. V2verify's voice biometric technology has the potential to disrupt the identity and access management space by combining speed, accuracy, and security."

Damian De Rozairo, co-founder and CEO of V2verify says, "We are honored to be a part of this elite program. We look forward to leveraging the Dreamit program and the vast experience of the Dreamit team to help scale our business."

About V2verify

V2verify, a voice biometrics company, provides a simple solution to a complex problem - user authentication and identity access management. With V2verify, simply SPEAK for 2 seconds on any device, AUTHENTICATE, V2 has a 99% authentication success rate, and ACCESS your information with a contact center, login to a website, a mobile app, a portal, open a locked door, or even clock in or out of a time management system. V2verify is changing the way businesses are handling user authentication and identity and access management.
